Presidents Message:

Aaron Wypyszynski – EAA # 579057

It appears that winter has finally arrive after one last try by summer! Between the rain and the cold, the low point of the flying season has arrived, but this also signals the start of building season! We have some great activities lined up over the coming months, with a presentation scheduled for ever chapter meeting through May!

Planned Presentations:

- January: The Wyp WingBoard (as recently featured on CNN!)

- February: Steel Tube Fuselage Construction by Dave Edgemon
- Alternative Engines (with a focus on Corvair and VW) by Mark Langford
- Stinson 108 Full Restoration by Bob Luther
- RV Fuselage Fabrication

As some of you may have heard, December was a busy month for me! It started with the first public demonstration of my latest WingBoard prototype. CNN was there to film it for their new series “The Future of Adventure”. The video turned out great and was just recently featured front and center on CNN’s homepage! You can check it out here:

There was also another big change, I sold my 1960 172 to a great couple over in Georgia (they are both Delta pilots looking to get back into GA). It was time to start focusing on building the new plane and getting current on Tailwheel time. The timing could not have been more perfect as within days we purchased an engine for our Buttercup project and finished the first side of the fuselage. The engine is a Lycoming O-235-L2C that has been in storage for years and is in need of an overhaul. Look for a workshop on welding as we finish up the main structure of the fuselage and another as we get into the rebuild of our engine.

I'm not one for political comment; Just a thought....

So then, if elected, will Trump DOWNGRADE to ride on Air Force One?

Next Generation of Pilots:

Hannah Brock – EAA # 1018039.

I was recently playing with this “Siri” like electronic thing, “Alexa”. She has this game called “Word Master”. Word Master is a game where Alexa gives you a word like Potato, that word ends with the letter “O”. I have to come up with a word that begins with “O”. But to play the game well you have to have fast reflexes and think ahead, which reminds me of flying. Παππους tells me you need to think ahead when flying and be ahead of the airplane.

If something happens while you are flying you have to stay calm and act fast and in my case in the lessons I have to act fast to think of the answer to a question my instructor gives me. I can see why flying is teaching me things that help even when I'm not at the airport.

EAA Chapter 190
Membership Data Form
For The Year 2016

We invite you to join your fellow aviator enthusiast in advancing the spirit of flight. We support the local community through public displays and fly-ins, our kids through the Young Eagles Program, and aircraft builders and pilots through highly interactive exchanges. We want to thank all of you who have supported our Chapter over the years and would appreciate your continued support.

Per our Chapter By-laws, membership dues for the calendar year are due in January. New members joining during the year may prorate the annual dues ($15) for the remaining number of months in the calendar year. Full privileges require National EAA membership. Applications for EAA National can be completed on-line at www.eaa.org. For current and new members, please update our database each year by filling out the membership form below and send it, along with your check for $15.00 (payable to EAA Chapter 190), to our Treasurer:
